

Interactive Data and Infinity Collection Systems Partner To Provide Turn-Key Solutions to Collection Agencies and Debt Buyers

Press Release
June 18, 2009

ATLANTA – Interactive Data LLC, a leading provider of integrated contact accuracy solutions and Infinity Collection Systems, a leading developer of software for collection agencies announced today the signing of a partnering agreement. Under terms of the agreement, Interactive Data will provide collection agencies and debt buyers, via the Infinity Collection System suite, the necessary tools to locate difficult-to-find debtor accounts.

“We are excited to integrate with Infinity Collection Systems”, said John Schaeffer, Managing Member of Interactive Data. “This partnership allows us to quickly deliver streamlined skip-tracing and right-party-contacts within Infinity’s collection software package. The end result is an efficient turn-key solution for collection agencies and debt buyers”.

Kenneth Rubin of Infinity Collection Systems said “There is a need to continue to enhance the tools available to collection agencies to focus on targeting debtors that will likely pay, using the most efficient services available. We are excited to be working with Interactive Data to provide a complete turn-key solution for collection agencies”.

Schaeffer added the significance of the Interactive Data/Infinity agreement meant that customers would no longer be bound by the restrictions of legacy platforms, enabling access to advanced products provided by Interactive Data for the first time, and without undertaking a major engineering effort.
